DOCUMENTARY 'THE LAST TEARDROP' ANNOUNCES WORLDWIDE THEATRICAL RELEASE

The award-winning documentary, which tells the story of singer and entertainer Bobby Wilson and his connection to musical legend Jackie Wilson, makes its worldwide debut in select theaters on May 10th. THE LAST TEARDROP documentary distributed by FAN-FORCE FILMS will premiere at The Angelika Film Center in New York City followed by screenings in Port Chester, NY, Columbia, South Carolina, Detroit, and Los Angeles on select dates.

The 84-minute film, directed by Florida Filmmaker Tony Grier and produced by AQUEST FILMS follows Bobby Wilson's journey living in foster care, his shocking family discovery, and a web of secrets involving the mob, murder and financial fraud.

The documentary further examines Bobby's connections to Motown's Four Tops and features entertainers Joey Dee of The Starlites, Peter Hernandez, the father of Bruno Mars, and Good Morning America Ultimate Hero Award recipient, Dr. John DeGarmo.

"I am most proud that the film will help draw attention to foster care and the adoption process," Director Tony Grier expresses. "Bobby's journey gives hope to those bitten by the system, who can now witness the perseverance of a person just like them defeating the odds," Grier adds.

Each screening will include a Q&A and panel discussion on the legacy of Jackie Wilson and the impact of Bobby's story.
